CONDITIONS OF SALE

Please allow up to ten (10) business days for processing of orders. Please allow up to three (3) weeks for production of each unique piece ordered.

Please be aware that orders placed during Killing Joke's touring schedule will inevitably take longer to process and fulfill. Whenever possible, you will be given notification of delays.

Shipping is to be paid by customer and, unless specified otherwise, will ship via UPS. All items will ship with a tracking number.

Boneyard accepts no liability for items lost or stolen in transit. Import duties will be charged for shipments outside of USA. These charges are beyond Boneyard's control and are not open to negotiation.

Every effort will be made to ensure customer satisfaction, but please be accurate with sizing as only one resizing is possible, at no extra charge. Return postage must be paid by customer.

There are no refunds.

Personalizing of rings and pendants, either simple runes or initials, will happily be done at the cost of $45 with a maximum of four (4) characters.

All work leaves the Boneyard studio with a weathered and antique patination. This will wear off over time and eventually a bright silver luster will appear. One can forestall this if desired by keeping your item away from soapy water.

Boneyard reserves the right to change prices as the cost of silver fluctuates. Items must be paid for in full before work commences.

All designs and images belong to P. Ferguson and may not be reproduced without prior consent.

HOW TO ORDER

Because each piece of Boneyard jewelry is individually cast and finished by hand, the following steps are required when placing your order.

First, please use the form on the Contact page to communicate the details of your order, including the sizing, shipping info and any personalization requests.

Once you've been given the final price, in accordance with the fluctuating silver market prices, please submit payment in full, via PayPal, to boneyardskullrings@gmail.com
